

- . Compared to the global average, Riyadh is much hotter and the difference was almost constant
- . The temperature in Riyadh is similar to the global average, because both are on the rise
- . In 1815, global temperatures reached an all-time low
- . Riyadh temperatures are stable, while Global is uneven

I used SQL, Excel and power bi